Mary's Musings

Thanks to Sally Brinkworth for arranging the summer Luncheons for our members. A good number of members have enjoyed getting together for these luncheons. Unfortunately due to some medical issues I have been dealing with, I have not been able to attend but I am looking forward to the next one.

Thank you to the Executive Board for keeping everything running smoothly. Enjoy the rest of the summer!

Life is good,

Mary Mckenna

DID YOU FORGET? We still have 13 members who have not paid their annual dues. Please send your check to Eleanore DeBoo at 253 NW 42nd Way, Deerfield Beach, FL 33442

Thanks!

My Journey to Understanding

Surviving Childhood Emotional Neglect

By Bett Willett

Hear Bett's Story on

Wednesday, August 16
7:00 p.m.

Woman's Club of
Deerfield Beach
910 E. Hillsboro Boulevard
Deerfield Beach

Emotional Neglect is a parent's failure to act. It's a failure to notice, attend to, or respond enough to a child's feelings. If you grew up in a home where your feelings were not heard, were ignored, were repressed, or overlooked—or if you were made to feel ashamed and guilty for even having feelings, then you may have suffered from emotional neglect.

My goal is to shine a light on neglect by sharing my struggle in the hope that my story will help those of you who are suffering in silence and wondering what is wrong with you identify with my journey and seek help.

And, to help everyone understand something of what an emotionally neglected child goes through.

VERNA ROSENZWEIG

Born Boston, Mass. Moved to Washington, DC at age 9. Married husband Richard in 1960, and moved to Silver Spring, MD. Had three children. In Maryland, I was active in our HOA as Hostess, Newsletter Editor, and Parade Chairman. I joined B'nai Brith Women, and became recording secretary. I started a diet club for children.

Worked at Sears, then Federal Government, NOAA, National Weather Service. Retired at age 65. Moved to Deerfield, where we already owned a condo in Century Village.

When hubby was elected Commissioner, he signed me up in the Woman's club. Joined in 2013. After one year, Caroline McNamara, who was driving me to meetings, decided to join the evening group. She asked me to consider taking over her job as Recording Secretary, and I agreed.

I also joined Jewish War Veterans Ladies Auxiliary (JWVA). I soon became Auxiliary President, later became Jr. Vice President of the JWVA Department of Florida. This June at our Convention, I will be installed as JWVA Florida State President.

I am secretary of my building condo association, and also secretary of Temple Beth Israel Board.

The one thing that runs through all these activities is the fact that, as he did with the Woman's Club, my husband coaxed me into all of them. With the exception of the Woman's Club, he paved the way in all these organizations. He is a past State Commander of Jewish War Veterans, President of our synagogue and of our building Condo Association.

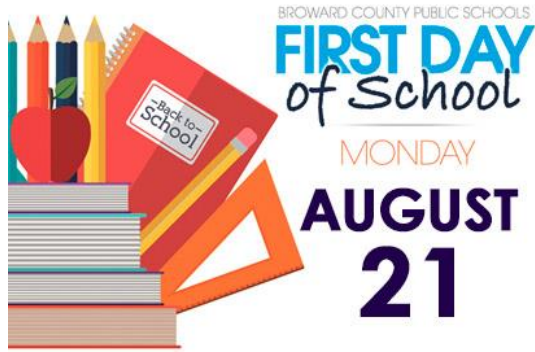

Most important to me are my friends – who I treasure above all else. The Woman's Club has brought me many wonderful friends.
